Vent Hood Exhaust Cleaning

Terra Klean Solutions, Inc. is a certified kitchen exhaust cleaning company that has the knowledge and expertise to service your kitchen's exhaust system. Our company understands the current codes and industry regulations, which allows us to identify any issues with your exhaust system and gives us the ability to recommend proper measures to ensure your system will be operating safely and efficiently.

Terra Klean offers professional, specialized cleaning services for restaurants, schools, churches, hospitals, retail spaces and others. We are insured, bonded and CHDCA certified (Certificate # 0299), and clean to NFPA 96 standards.

According to the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), approximately 8,000 restaurants in the U.S. experience a fire each year, causing an average of $246 million in property damage annually. That figure does not account for the revenue lost when a restaurant is closed for repairs and monthly expenses are still due. It's important for small business owners to take preventative measures to protect their facilities

NAICS Code: 561790

- We are insured and bonded with friendly customer service, competitive prices, and professional trained and certified personnel.
- Properly maintaining your vent hood exhaust system is required to follow NFPA 96: Standard fire code.
- The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) is the governing body providing the minimum codes of standards for the kitchen exhaust cleaning industry via the NFPA 96: Standard for Ventilation Control and Fire Protection of Commercial Cooking Operations.
